New spas sprout up from coast to coast.

EAST TO WEST • The 100-year-old Langham Huntington hotel in Pasadena, Calif., debuted its 12-room Chuan Spa (www.langhamhotels.com) in June. Experience at the Chinese-inspired sanctuary include an aching Lo therapy, a caviar and pearl facial, and men’s-only therapies.

HAUTE BAKERY • Inspired by the fashions of Jean Paul Gaultier, the Rittenhouse hotel’s new Rittenhouse Spa and Club (www.rittenhousehotel.com) is a baroque retreat dripping with Italian stone and sparkling chandeliers. The nearly 15,000-square-foot facility—which opens in September at Philadelphia’s largest destination spa—features Natura Bissé and Tata Harper treatments, a Paul Labrecque salon, and a state-of-the-art fitness center.

SWISS HIT • In April, the Four Seasons Hotel New York debuted the L. Raphael Beauty Spa (www.fourseasons.com), a 10-treatment-room retreat specializing in antiaging therapies. The 4,500-square-foot spa is the Swiss skin-care company’s first output in the United States. Signature therapies include the Oxy Star facial (which treats skin with powerful gases of pure oxygen) and the Secrets of the Dead Sea massage (utilizing mineral-rich Dead Sea salts).
